Contributors

Susan Verdi Webster is the Jane W. Mahoney Professor of Art History and American Studies at the College of William and Mary and Director of the college's Latin American Studies Program. She is the author of numerous articles and several books on Iberian and colonial Latin American art and architecture. She is preparing a book about painters and the profession in early colonial Quito.

Mark Lentz is Assistant Professor of History at Utah Valley University in Orem, Utah, and co-editor with Dana Velasco Murillo and Margarita R. Ochoa of City Indians in Spain's American Empire: Urban Indigenous Society in Colonial Mesoamerica and Andean South America, 1530–1810 (2012). His recent research and writing has been supported by a stipend and stay at the Max Planck Institute for European Legal History. He has also received fellowships to participate in National Endowment for the Humanities Summer Institutes (2012, 2013).

Iñigo García-Bryce is Associate Professor of History and Director of the Center for Latin American and Border Studies at New Mexico State University. He is the author of Crafting the Republic: Lima's Artisans and Nation-Building in Peru, 1821–1879 (2004), published in translation as República con ciudadanos: los artesanos de Lima, 1821–1879 (2008). Selected as a Fulbright Scholar for Peru (2009), he was visiting professor at the Universidad Nacional Mayor de San Marcos. His current research focuses on the history of APRA (Peru's Alianza Popular Revolucionaria Americana). He has published an article and book chapter on the topic and is completing a book of interviews with some early APRA members.

Jean-Philippe Belleau is Assistant Professor in the Latin American and Iberian Studies Department at the University of Massachusetts, Boston. His article "The Ethnic Lives of Missionaries: Early Inculturation Theology in Mato Grosso, Brazil," was published in 2013. His book Le mouvement indien au Brésil: du village aux organisations is set for publication in 2014.

THE ACADEMY OF AMERICAN FRANCISCAN HISTORY DISSERTATION FELLOWSHIP

The Americas is proud to sponsor up to four dissertation fellowships funded by the Academy of American Franciscan History. Each fellowship is worth $10,000 and as many as two of these fellowships will be awarded in a given year for projects dealing with some aspect of the history of the Franciscan Family in Latin America, including the United States Borderlands, Mexico, Central and South America. Up to another two fellowships will be awarded to support projects dealing with some aspect of the history of the Franciscan Family in the rest of the United States and Canada. Projects may deal with any aspect of the history of the Franciscan Family, including any of the branches of the Family, male, female, tertiary, Capuchin, etc. Proposals are evaluated by the Editorial Board of The Americas whose recommendations are passed on to the Board of Directors of the Academy.

The recipient must be engaged in full-time research during the period of the fellowship. The applicant must be a doctoral candidate at a university in the Americas, and the bulk of the research should be conducted in the Americas. To apply for a fellowship, please provide a 10-page proposal of the research project. This proposal should include the title and principle arguments of the dissertation, a research plan (including repositories where the research will be conducted), and a timetable outlining all phases of the research up to and including the conclusion and successful defense of the dissertation. The applicant must also provide three letters of support for the project, one of which must be from the chairman of the dissertation committee/major advisor. Deadline for 2015 Fellowships is February 1, 2015. Awards will be announced in April, and funding may begin as early as May.

As a condition of the fellowship award, the Academy will reserve the right of first refusal to publish any work funded under the provision of this program. The Academy has a fifty-year history of publishing works dealing with the history of the Franciscan Family in the Americas and some monographs are now jointly published through an agreement with Stanford University Press. Any royalties or other considerations resulting from publication will be separate and distinct from the dissertation fellowship.
