Notes for Contributors to Iraq

Iraq is managed by two Editors and an Editorial Board based around BISI's Publications Committee. The Editorial Board meets three times a year to oversee and advise the work of the editors and reports to the Institute's Council.

Articles should be submitted to the Editors:
Dr Mark Weeden (SOAS) and Dr Augusta McMahon (University of Cambridge): iraqjournal@yahoo.com

Articles may be submitted in English, French or German, in either Word (or equivalent) or pdf format. For double-blind refereeing purposes, please remove all personal identifying information (name, institutional affiliation, etc.) from your paper when you first submit it.

Your initial submission should include:
• a cover letter, including your address and email for academic purposes. For multi-authored articles, please indicate the corresponding author. Please note that your email address will be added to your article, if published;
• the text of your article in PDF, with filename: [short version of title].pdf, e.g., Brak2017.pdf. Your article should include an abstract (c. 200 words). Please embed any images and tables but DO NOT indicate your name and institutional affiliation;
• a bibliography in the name-date system of referencing (e.g., Mallowan 1954) at the end of your article text. Please refer to the instructions below for details;
• a list of captions for any figures, after your bibliography.

If, after refereeing, you are invited to proceed to publication, you should submit the following files:
• an abstract suitable for translation into Arabic (maximum 200 words), as filename: [short version of title] Abstract.docx (e.g., Brak2017 Abstract.docx);
• the text of your article and bibliography, as filename: [short version of title].docx, e.g., Brak2017.docx. Include your name and institutional affiliation after the title;
• any images, each as a separate file, as filename: [short version of title] Fig[number].tiff (e.g., Brak2017 Fig1.tiff). DO NOT EMBED IMAGES IN THE TEXT DOCUMENT
• a list of image captions, as filename: [short version of title] Captions.docx
• any tables, each as a separate file, as filename: [short version of title] Table[number].docx. DO NOT EMBED TABLES IN THE TEXT DOCUMENT

The maximum length of any article is 12,000 words; the maximum number of figures is normally 20, but the editors are happy to discuss exceptions, especially for primary publications of cuneiform texts and for archaeological fieldwork reports. It may be possible to include extra images in the online version.
Please use a Unicode font if your paper includes special characters such as used in cuneiform transliteration, for example. Please keep any formatting in your text to a minimum: do not use headers and footers or coloured text; do not use your software's built-in heading or section styles or templates. Section headings should be italicized. We prefer that you do not use a section numbering system (e.g., Section 2.1, 2.2, 2.3a, 2.3b, etc.) but use short and clear text section titles.

Under the direction of the Editorial Board all contributions to the journal are peer-reviewed anonymously by members of the board and by selected experts.

First View
All articles will be made available digitally ahead of the appearance of the print volume, through Cambridge University Press's First View service.

Open Access Policy
Iraq permits authors to post the Version of Record of their article on their personal or departmental webpage, and the Accepted Manuscript copies of their articles in institutional repositories, simultaneously with its publication on Cambridge Journals Online. We are thus compliant with RCUK guidelines via the Green OA route. We do not currently offer Gold OA. Our policy is under review.

Please contact us if you have any concerns.

Please see the Iraq transfer of copyright form for full details on author re-use of articles.

Figure formats
To ensure that your figures are reproduced to the highest possible standards, Cambridge Journals recommends the following formats and resolutions for supplying electronic figures.

Please ensure that your figures are saved as Tiffs and at the final publication size and resolution. The maximum dimensions of an image in Iraq are: 14.7 cm wide x 21.4 cm high. Please keep this in mind if you wish to have your figures reproduced at a standard scale, e.g., 1:1 or 1:20. If your figures should be at a standard scale, please set this up yourself and indicate in your cover letter that you have done so. When you save as Tiffs you should get the option of Image Compression. If so please select the LZW option. This should substantially reduce the size of the file and make it easier to upload. Following these guidelines will result in high quality images being reproduced in both the print and the online versions of the journal.

Please note that it is the author's responsibility to secure permissions to reproduce any images or other illustrations used. If the copyright or license for an image is held by anyone other than the author(s), please indicate this in the relevant caption.

Line artwork
Format: TIFF
Colour mode: black and white (also known as 1-bit)
Resolution: 800-1200 dpi at final size

Combination artwork (line/tone)
Format: TIFF
Colour mode: grayscale (also known as 8-bit)
Resolution: 600 dpi at final size

Black and white halftone artwork
Format: TIFF

Colour mode: grayscale (also known as 8-bit)
Resolution: 300 dpi at final size

Colour halftone artwork
Format: TIFF
Colour mode: CMYK colour
Resolution: 300 dpi at final size
Black and white print images may be reproduced in colour online if suitable images are supplied. Please check that any colour images are readable in black and white/greyscale, as the paper version will be greyscale only. For example, do not use very subtle shades of colour for different data groups in charts. Do not refer to colours in captions, e.g., "the findspot of the bowl is shown in red"; use arrows or similar to indicate such details.

Style guidelines for the journal Iraq
Citations in text and footnotes
(Author Date: Page), e.g., (Smith 2000: 134–73). If mentioning name in text, e.g. "According to Smith (2000: 98)". Lists of in-text citations should be in alphabetical order separated by semi-colons, e.g., (Bahrani 2017; Feldman 1998; Winter 2012). Use et al. for more than two co-authors (but list all authors in bibliography).

Number ranges
Numbers separated by an en-dash.
E.g. 1–99; 225–236; 140–201.
Where volumes or series need to be indicated use a comma, e.g. (Jones 1995: I, 33–45.)
In the main text of your article numbers under 100 should be spelled out, except in overtly statistical contexts.

Common abbreviations
Fig. 5 (capitalised) = for a figure in the article itself
fig. 12 = figures in other publications
pl. 1 = plate (Roman numerals are fine if this is the format of the publication cited)
no. 1 = number, e.g. catalogue number
n. = footnote or endnote
f. /ff. = and following page/pages (though we prefer a page range)
mm, cm, m, km = millimetres, centimetres, metres, kilometres (we prefer these spelled out in full in the main text, abbreviated in footnotes, tables, etc.)
% = per cent (again, we prefer this to be spelled out except in overtly statistical contexts)

In abbreviations consisting entirely of capitals we do not usually use full stops: BISI not B.I.S.I., UET not U.E.T. The most common exception to this rule is B.C., which in Iraq traditionally uses full stops and small capitals (similarly B.P., B.C.E., A.D., A.H. and C.E.). We normally use B.C./A.D., but authors are welcome to use B.C.E./C.E. if they prefer.

We generally avoid op. cit., loc. cit. etc., but ibid. (used only for the immediately preceding reference, i.e. not for a citation of the same publication earlier in your article), and cf. are fine. Note that these and the very common abbreviations e.g., i.e.

and etc. are kept in roman type, while sic., et al. (in a citation; all authors should be listed in the bibliography) and passim should be italicised.

Quotation marks
Normally double (“ ”). For a quote within a quote use single quotes (‘ ’) within the double quotes of the main quote.

Bibliography
In general, we ask that you avoid abbreviating journal and series titles (so Zeitschrift für Assyriologie und vorderasiatische Archäologie, not ZA). Otherwise abbreviations should match those current in The Assyrian Dictionary of the Oriental Institute of the University of Chicago (CAD). Give the author’s name each time it appears in the list (do not use ———).

Book:
Russell, J. M. 1991. Sennacherib’s Palace Without Rival at Nineveh. Chicago and London: University of Chicago Press.

Edited book:
Dittmann, R., C. Eder and B. Jacobs, eds. 2003. Altertumswissenschaften im Dialog. Festschrift für Wolfram Nagel zur Vollendung seines 80. Lebensjahres. Alter Orient und Altes Testament 306. Münster: Ugarit-Verlag.

Book chapter:
Charpin, D. 1990. “Les édits de ‘restauration’ des rois babyloniens et leur application” in Cl. Nicolet, ed. Du pouvoir dans l’antiquité: mots et réalités. Geneva: Librairie Droz, pp. 13–24.

Journal article:
Winter, I. J. 1992. “Idols of the King: Royal Images as Recipients of Ritual Action in Ancient Mesopotamia”. Journal of Ritual Studies 6 (1): 13–42.

Publications in Arabic and other non-roman scripts:
Janabi, K. A. 1961. تل الحفريات الاثرية في شهرزور (The excavations at Tell Shamlu in Shahrizur). Sumer 17:174-193.

NB—We will accept original script or transcription for titles, but prefer that this is done consistently within the bibliography, i.e. that either original script or transcription is used for all publications in a given script.

Last updated: July 2018