BACKGROUND

The Canadian Journal of Neurological Sciences is the official publication of the member societies of the Canadian Neurological Sciences Federation (CNSF) – Canadian Neurological Society (CNS), Canadian Neurosurgical Society (CNSS), Canadian Society of Clinical Neurophysiologists (CSCN), Canadian Association of Child Neurology (CACN), Canadian Society of Neuroradiology (CSNR), and the Canadian Stroke Consortium (CSC).

The Journal is a widely circulated, internationally recognized medical journal that publishes peer-reviewed articles in neurology and neurosciences. The Journal is published in January, March, May, July, September, and November in an online format.

The first Canadian Journal of Neurological Sciences (the Journal) was published in 1974 in Winnipeg. In 1981, the Journal became the official publication of the member societies of the CNSF.

THE JOURNAL TODAY

Today, the Journal publishes original work in both the clinical and basic neurosciences and continues to encourage the publication of papers from all branches of the neurosciences. Journal policy is based on the firm belief that specialists working on the nervous system share many common interests and have important ideas to communicate to each other.

ONLINE ADVERTISING

Our partnership with Cambridge University Press has already provided unprecedented access to the Canadian Journal of Neurological Sciences (CJN). Now, with their proprietary online platform, Cambridge Core, relevant books and journals content are brought together on one site, offering visitors myriad opportunities to view your banner advertisement. Its responsive design automatically configures to handheld devices, making sure your message remains unchanged. Cambridge Core visitors include researchers at medical institutions via Cambridge's robust consortia program. Online advertising expands the reach of your message and is cost effective.
